Continues for Three Days—Mansion House Opened on Last Day.

The auction of household goods held at Winslow Tracy Williams' was finished Friday afternoon, having lasted three days. The greater part of the furniture, including a large dining room table, was purchased by Nathan Gilman of Bozrahville, who conducted the showily well there, and by Mr. Dufrane, who is opening a summer hotel at Myrtle, this last morning, for $500 for articles. Much of the furniture and bedding brought good prices, although many articles went for far below their actual value. Dining room chairs purchased at $25 apiece sold for $5. The brass andirons made for the hall at an expense of $240 sold for $21, while mattresses sold from $10 for single ones to $15 for a full size. Mattresses, porch chairs sold for full price. Peter Nawrocki bought many articles and some antique dealers, as purchases, one coming from Hartford. There was not a very large attendance on any day but the first, many coming out of curiosity to visit the house, but finding the goods auctioned off of the place. The house was opened Friday to the purchasers who marveled at the beauty of the interior. WORKERS MUST HUSTLE
In Order to Make Good in W. S. S. Campaign.

A telegram received here Sunday from Frank A. Vanderlip urges upon the war stamp organization of Killingly the need of hustling to make good in the campaign that is to be made this week. Killingly is expected to win success in the drive and to turn in 100 per cent of registrations. This means that the committee must expect every person in this town to do his or her duty. All are equally responsible for the success of the drive. The boys who are "over there" will be glad to see what the people of the home town are doing while they are representing it on the battle front.

In Danielson the registration station is to be at the town hall next Friday, June 28, and the hours of registration are to be from noon to 5 p. m.

QUIET FOURTH
Expected This Year—Money Better Spent Than For Explosives.

While no official rulings have been issued here yet, it is probable that safe and sane Fourth will be ordered for Danielson. It is felt that there can be no better way to display patriotism this year than in aiding in winning the war, and money that has gone in the past for noise-producing things can be better used in the purchase of thrift stamps and war certificates.

And it is also recalled that, as a general rule, Danielson's most noisy and most dangerous celebrators the last few years have been those who have claimed exemption on "account of being aliens." This being true they will be required to await some other time to burn up powder in observance of the anniversary of the independence of a nation from which they are not.

Mrs. James Morton and Mrs. John Williams have been taking a census of the children in the village; they will be weighed and registered in Fire Engine hall.

He is now able to fly alone and in letters home states that he likes the work better and better every day, although he is very anxious to get across. In fact, he writes, "I'd rather rather receive orders to go across than to get a furlough."

MILK CAMPAIGN
To Be Carried On in Town—Will Emphasize Value of Milk as Food.

Agent Benjamin W. Ellis of the Windham County Farmers' association announced Saturday that the milk campaign is soon to be carried on in Putnam, the object of the campaign being to stimulate interest in the use of milk as a beverage, but as a food. Mr. Ellis stated that particular stress will be laid on the use of milk as food for children. The campaign, which is primarily of an educational nature, is being conducted by the Farmers' association in co-operation with the Connecticut state council of defense and the Connecticut food supply committee.

The local farm bureau has for some time been planning such a campaign, but on learning that the state organizations were planning one also willingly agreed to join with them. The date of the campaign has been definitely set, will probably last two weeks, and will include lectures for the public, window displays, exhibits of various kinds, and distribution of literature dealing with the food value of milk.

City Briefs.
During the absence of Capt. Joseph Ryan of the Putnam police, who was out of the city on business Saturday, Sgt. Julius Golder was on duty in the business section.

Robert Torrey, principal of the high school at Mill River, Mass., arrived in Putnam Saturday to pass the summer with his parents on the farm.

John R. Fox, a graduate of the Advent Christian college, Aurora, Ill., supplied the pulpit of the Advent church on Sunday. In company with three classmates, Mr. Fox made the trip to Putnam from Aurora by automobile.

Swallowed False Teeth, Recovering.
It was stated at the Day Kimball hospital Saturday night that the condition of Frank Wright of Pomfret is improving rapidly. Mr. Wright, Thursday, in his sleep, swallowed a plate with false teeth. He was taken to the hospital, where it was necessary they get their living, but for which they will not fight.

Their celebration under present conditions is, at the best, worse than mockery, and the public will appreciate the official action that will put a ban on their noise making.

Coal Situation Not Improved.
The coal situation continues to be a cause for worry for many residents of Danielson. Bins that usually are filled at this time of year are in anticipation of the coming winter are as bare as Mother Hubbard's cupboard and the prospect for setting coal does not brighten. Some coal is bound to be received here, of course, but other coal season arrives, but shipments that have reached Danielson during the spring months are far below the receipts of that for the same period during normal years.

High though coal prices are and are bound to be under present conditions, this feature of the situation seems to be causing uneasiness to the majority of people. They are ready and willing to stand the assessment if they can get the fuel for the memories of the bitter cold that has wintered vividly with most householders.

to perform an operation to remove the plate from the stomach.

Boys Assist in Farm Work.

Through the agency of the Windham County Farmers' association, 12 farmers in this vicinity have been supplied with boys to help with work during the summer months. The boys are recruited from high schools throughout the state and are then sent to the Connecticut Agricultural college at Storrs for two weeks of intensive training. Following this, they are placed on farms in this state. Two Putnam High school boys have volunteered for this work and have been to Storrs for their instruction. They are Clifford Gleason, who is now on the Robert Lowe farm, South Woodstock and Austin Dobson, who is on the S. Nikoloff farm in Putnam. Other boys placed by the local farm bureau have come from other parts of Connecticut.

No Game—Rain.
Because of rain, the Manhasett-Connecticut Mills baseball game scheduled for Saturday afternoon on Manhasett field, Putnam, had to be called off.
